

Assistant Professor in Theological Ethics, Tenure-track
Jesuit School of Theology, Santa Clara University

The Jesuit School of Theology of Santa Clara University invites applications for an assistant-rank position in Theological Ethics to begin Fall 2020. Areas of sub-specialization are open, but should complement existing faculty strengths and may include political theologies, liberation theologies, race/racial justice, post-colonial studies, ecological ethics, ethics of migration, economic ethics, war and peace, or human rights. A strong candidate will offer evidence of engaging public and social issues using constructive and contextual methodologies. The candidate must demonstrate promise/success as a teaching scholar and understand and support the school's Ignatian mission.

Located in Berkeley, CA, JST-SCU is a private, Jesuit, Catholic divinity school committed to "Living Theology. Transforming Our World." Lay, Jesuit and other religious students come from around the world to participate in JST-SCU's academically rigorous, socially engaged, and spiritually alive community. An ecclesiastical faculty, JST-SCU prepares lay, Jesuit, and other religious and clergy students for ministries in the Church, society, and academia.

JST-SCU is a member school of the Graduate Theological Union (www.gtu.edu), the most comprehensive center for graduate study of religion in North America. With a focus on interreligious, ecumenical, and interdisciplinary perspectives, GTU faculty and students engage the world's religions and wisdom traditions in contemporary contexts, educating innovative leaders for the academy, religious organizations, and the nonprofit sector, equipping scholars to embody the critical thinking, ethical frameworks, compassionate values, and spiritual foundations essential to building a more just, peaceful, and sustainable world.

Faculty members are expected to be teaching scholars who balance a commitment to quality teaching with active programs of research and creative scholarship. Ideal candidates should demonstrate not only potential for excellent graduate teaching, but also promise in sustained research and scholarly publication, and service to the school, the GTU, the community, and the Church. The successful candidate will mentor students in JST-SCU's ecclesiastical programs (STL and STD) as well as our various master's degrees and GTU programs.

The successful candidate will:

- teach four graduate courses per year on the semester system that will serve JST and GTU's extraordinarily diverse student body and programmatic needs.
- develop a research agenda that leads to peer-reviewed publications;
- direct (as commensurate with experience) and contribute to comprehensive exam, thesis, and dissertation committees;
- have or be willing to develop expertise in rigorous and engaging on-line education;
- provide service to the school as appropriate to rank;
- be eligible to serve on an Ecclesiastical Faculty.

Applicants are invited to visit our website (www.scu.edu/jst/) for background on JST-SCU's mission, programs and degrees offered, faculty opportunities for interdisciplinary programs and research, and the multicultural student population we serve.

Santa Clara University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, committed to excellence through diversity and inclusion, and, in this spirit, particularly welcomes applications from women, persons of color, and members of historically underrepresented groups. Santa Clara University will provide international sponsorship for non-US scholars. The University will provide reasonable accommodations to individuals with a disability.

Also, in accordance with the federal Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, the University annually collects and makes publicly available information about campus crimes and other reportable incidents (www.scu.edu/cs/).

Qualifications:

1. Completion of the Ph.D. or equivalent degree in ethics by the time of application.
2. Evidence of effective and excellent teaching. Experience mentoring/directing graduate work is desirable.
3. Evidence of an agenda for scholarship and promise of publication, or sustained publication (depending on rank), in the area of expertise.
4. Eligibility to serve on a Catholic ecclesiastical faculty.

Rank and Salary:

- Assistant Professor
- Competitive salary and benefits package; housing assistance program

Starting Date: August 1, 2020

Application Deadline: March 6, 2020

Application Procedure

Applicants should submit:

- a cover letter or personal statement that includes (a) a statement of teaching philosophy, (b) a projected research agenda, (c) the applicant's experience or interest in working with people of diverse cultures and identities, (d) the applicant's understanding of the mission of JST-SCU;
- a curriculum vitae and copies of graduate transcripts;
- sample syllabi and teaching evaluations from courses taught; and
- an example of scholarship, e.g., in-press or published article.

Submit all application materials through the hiring portal.

NOTE: Candidates invited for screening interviews will be asked to provide three letters of recommendation.