

Seventy-Sixth Annual Convention

The Catholic Theological Society of America

Thinking Catholic Interreligiously

Sheraton Atlanta Hotel
Atlanta, Georgia
June 9 - 12, 2022

The Seal of the Catholic Theological Society of America

The first and fourth quarters of the shield are tinctured red, the color of the Humanity of the Lord, and the cross is gold, the color of his Divinity. The cross of our salvation is an appropriate charge with which to quarter the arms of the Catholic Theological Society of America. The open book refers to the Sacred Scriptures.

To represent Tradition, the four Doctors of the Church who support the Cathedra Petri, enclosed in a casing of bronze above the apsidal altar of St. Peter's Basilica in Rome, are represented by their symbols in the four quarters of the shield. Two are of the Latin and two are of the Eastern Church.

The beehive in the first quarter represents St. Ambrose, on whose lips as a young child a swarm of bees is said to have rested as a portent of his eloquence.

The symbol of the cross with the two rings in the second quarter represents St. Athanasius. Since "Athanasius" is from the Greek meaning "without death" or "immortality," a black field has been chosen to symbolize death and the cross is silver (white) to carry out the meaning of his name. Silver is the color of light and it is accentuated by being placed on a black background. The two circles, or rings, interlaced to symbolize unity in one person, represent the two natures in Christ, substantially joined, which Athanasius defended. They encircle the cross, the symbol of faith and of Jesus Christ, to bring to mind the Athanasian Creed which derives its title from this great Confessor and Doctor of the Church. The form of the cross used is Eastern, commonly known as the Greek cross.

The third quarter indicates St. John Chrysostom, Archbishop of Constantinople. His name means "golden mouthed." It is said that a snow-white dove flew into the church at his ordination. The beak of the dove has been tinctured in gold to symbolize his name. The black field was chosen to artistically balance the second quarter.

The fourth quarter bears the flaming heart with the two arrows to represent St. Augustine. This is the well-known symbol of the Bishop of Hippo.

The cross itself is the background for charges representing two recently declared Doctors of the Church. Passing behind the open book on the vertical arm of the cross is a red arrow. This represents St. Teresa of Avila, who described one of her spiritual experiences through the image of an angel wounding her heart with a dart. This transverberation, partly because of Bernini's depiction, became a common symbol of Teresa and her writings. A red quill pen, on the horizontal arm of the cross, represents St. Catherine of Siena. It calls to mind her writings and her authority. Its red color symbolizes Christ's redeeming us through the shedding of his blood, which is a theme prominent in her writings, as well as the gift of the stigmata which she received.

The chief, or the upper third of the shield, bears a golden sun on a white background. This is the symbol of St. Thomas Aquinas, Doctor of the Church and author of the Summa Theologiae. He is the patron of Catholic students, schools and universities. The stars represent Mary, the Mother of God, as "Stella Duce" and "Stella Maris," the guiding light of theological wisdom, and the "extirpator of all heresies."

Above the shield the lamp of learning and wisdom rests on a wreath to symbolize "Reason."

The order of the quarters follows chronologically the dates of birth of the four early Doctors. The first Latin Doctor, Ambrose AD 340, is in the first quarter; the second quarter portrays the symbols for Athanasius AD 296, the first Greek Doctor; in the third quarter Chrysostom AD 346, the second Greek Doctor; and in the last quarter Augustine AD 354, the second Latin Doctor. The Greek Doctors are placed between the Latin Doctors in the first and fourth quarters.

Land Acknowledgement

The Catholic Theological Society of America acknowledges the Muscogee — Creek — people who lived, worked, produced knowledge on, and nurtured the land of today's Atlanta where we are meeting in June 2022. We remember that in 1821, the Muscogee were forced to relinquish this land, and we recognize the sustained oppression, land dispossession, and involuntary removals of the Muscogee and Cherokee peoples from Georgia and the Southeast. In the spirit of today's interfaith learning and living, we will continue to honor the Muscogee Nation and other Indigenous caretakers of this and other lands by humbly seeking knowledge of their histories and by committing ourselves to respectful stewardship of the land here in Atlanta and in every place where we live and teach.

We likewise remember, in the same spirit of repentance, and likewise with a resolve to work for healing and reparation, the many Black women and men who have suffered and still suffer from the sins of slavery and racism here in Atlanta and in all the places where we live and work. Sadly, we need also to remember the eight people, including six Asian-American women, murdered in the spa shootings that occurred here in March 2021.

Announcing a New Series

Past Light on Present Life: Theology, Ethics, and Spirituality

Edited and with Commentary by Roger Haight, S.J., Alfred
Pach III, Amanda Avila Kaminski

These volumes are offered to the academic community of teachers and learners in the fields of Christian history, theology, ethics, and spirituality. They introduce classic texts by authors whose contributions have markedly affected the development of Christianity, especially in the West. The texts are accompanied by an introductory essay on context and key themes and followed by an interpretation that dialogically engages the original message with the issues of ethics, theology, and spirituality in the present.

Catholic Practice in the Americas

Series Editors: John C. Seitz, Fordham University and Jessica Delgado, Ohio State University

This series aims to contribute to the growing field of Catholic studies by publishing books devoted to the historical and cultural survey of Catholic practice in the Americas, from the colonial period to the present. The series springs from a pressing need in the study of American Catholicism for critical investigation and analysis of the contours of Catholic experience across the Americas.

Ph.D. Program in Theology

Theology Sited in History and Culture

Our doctoral program offers a distinctive research focus locating the work of theology in history and culture with attention to the United States. Theology is at the center, but students examine other disciplines and practices: taking courses in history, theology, and cultural studies and conducting theological research with methods from the humanities and social sciences.
