

Leo Guardado is an Assistant Professor of Systematic Theology at Fordham University. He received his PhD from the University of Notre Dame with a focus on Theology and Peace Studies. His research focuses on the concept and practice of church sanctuary, its ecclesiological implications in a world of mass human displacement, as well as its possibilities for rethinking collective modes of nonviolent resistance. He is originally from El Salvador.